Founded in 1993, Magevet is one of the nation's premiere Jewish a cappella singing groups. A coed ensemble comprised of undergraduate students at Yale University, Magevet is known for its sweet blend of voices, unique arrangements, and lighthearted sense of humor. The group's diverse repertoire spans modern Israeli pop and Renaissance choral pieces to Yiddish folk tunes and Zionist classics. The members of Magevet are equally diverse: engineers and historians, Jews and Gentiles, New Yorkers and Californians, all united by camaraderie and a love of singing. Magevet is devoted to spreading Jewish music to the far corners of the globe, and embarks on two-three major tours each year, in addition to regular performances throughout the Northeast. In the past few years, our tours have brought us all over the United States and Canada, as well as to Europe, South Africa, and Israel.
